U.S. Bolsters Its Drive On 'Fifth Column'

Funds Asked For FBI, Other Agencies; Foreigners Barred; Army Chief of Staff Asks Regular Army of 400,000

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, June 6.—The government, striving for "total preparedness," synchronized its huge military program today with a comprehensive campaign against "fifth column" threats on the home front.

While congress was being asked to authorize 400,000 regular troops—almost double the standing army's present strength—President Roosevelt requested $6,558,800 to reinforce the Federal Bureau of Investigation and other justice department units responsible for dealing with subversive activities.

Foreigners Barred

The entry and travel of aliens were placed under drastic restrictions by state department order, which barred admission to the United States of all foreigners unable to prove a "legitimate purpose or reasonable need."

A ban was imposed simultaneously on shore-leave privileges for all foreign seamen whose names are not listed on the vessel crew roster of a ship making port.

Striking at a potential channel of information for any enemy, the federal communications commission forbade the country's host of amateur radio operators to communicate with foreign stations.

In transmitting his FBI recommendation, Mr. Roosevelt said he concurred in the department's expectation "that there will be a great number of prisoners to be handled," and that United States marshals and deputy marshals "may be called upon to guard and protect federal or seized property."

Calls to Young Lawyers

FBI Chief J. Edgar Hoover, anticipating that congress will increase his force from its present 3,000 agents to a record strength of 10,000, appealed to young lawyers to apply for service. Some difficulty in recruiting additional agents was foreseen, for FBI statistics show that only one applicant in a thousand fills all requirements.

The FBI, informed quarters said, already has numerous investigations under way into charges of alien activity. Congress at the same time pressed ahead on legislation intended to hobble fifth columnists.

The house promptly passed yesterday and sent to the senate a bill providing for swift deportation of aliens who engage in espionage or sabotage, or who are convicted of felonies.

The senate military committee studied proposals for creation of

Where Germans Hurl Thousands Against French

Top—This map shows the scene of what probably will be one of the greatest battles of all time as 600,000 or more German troops are hurled against the French on the western front. The battle line is 110 miles long, extending from Abbeville to Longwy. Below—Their trek to safety interrupted by German warplanes overhead, a French refugee family takes to a roadside ditch to hide until the bombers pass. RED CROSS ARMY GOES "OVER TOP"

Meets Original Quota Of $2,000; Begins On Second $2,000

The fact that one army—the Red Cross army of mercy—was "over the top" was welcome news today to Salem people who have contributed and will contribute again to the relief of Europe's innocent war victims.

The Salem Red Cross today announced that the chapter's original quota of $2,000 had been attained. However, there is still another $2,000 to be raised, chapter officials stressed, and work on obtaining this amount is already under way.

Booths will be maintained at the two banks and at the post-office.

Gains Are Reported In Health Program

Reporting on the physical development of eighth grade students, Frank Gordon, physical education instructor at Junior High school, revealed today that a survey conducted during the 1939-40 school term showed that 214 students in his eighth grade classes gained an average of 8.13 pounds each.

The average gain in height for the nine-month school term was 1.27 inches, Gordon said.

The biggest individual gain were made by Dominic Alessi who grew three and one-half inches and increased 29 pounds in weight.

Gordon teaches hygiene classes in which he stresses the following health rules: Eight to ten hours sleep each night; plenty of wholesome food, including vegetables, milk and fruit, eaten at regular times; cleanliness in body, clothes and habits; and plenty of fresh air and sunshine.

Hitler's Juggernauts Destroyed, Allies Say, In 'Quagmire' Defense

BRITISH, NAZIS TRADE BOMBS

R. A. F. Attacks German Bases; Hitler Planes Over England

(By Associated Press)
LONDON, June 6.—Trading aerial blows in unceasing warfare, Germany's air force today unleashed its most extensive bombing attack on England since the war began while British airmen were reported officially to have attacked German troops, supply bases and communications lines in raids extending from the battle zone in France to the industrially important Ruhr valley in western Germany.

The Nazis dropped high explosives and incendiary bombs in their sweep over a 270-mile stretch of English coastline early today and last night in apparent search for British airdromes. Several persons were injured.

Help French Troops

British airmen made aerial assaults on crowded German communications lines leading to the Somme river battlefield in new efforts to help the French allies halt the German drive on Paris. Prime Minister Churchill announced that the house of commons would hold a secret session next Tuesday for debate on home defense.

While Britons with rifles and guns at hand stood constant watch at home against any attempted invasion of their tight little isle, the air ministry reported that medium and heavy bombers of the Royal Air Force "attacked enemy troop concentrations and harassed enemy movements behind the fighting front."

Other heavy bombers, the ministry added, "struck at junctions and marshalling yards west of the Ruhr while others attacked military objectives in Germany."

The raiding forays took a toll of six German planes, the ministry said, while one British plane was shot down and two are missing.

In an early-morning raid, the British scored direct hits on oil

ITALY MINES COAST; SENDS U. S. WARNING

Sounds Threat If America Goes To Aid Of Allies

(By Associated Press)
ROME, June 6.—Italian authorities are notifying the United States government that a 12-mile strip around the coast of Italy is being mined, an authoritative source reported today.

The informant said that the United States liner Washington would be safely conducted through the 12-mile danger belt into Naples where it is scheduled to dock June 10.

The bounding of the Italian coast and the coastline of parts of the empire with the danger zone was the newest major development in Italy's broadening preparations for entry into the European war.

Whether the empire coastline as well was mined was not made known. Nor was it known whether the mining of Italian waters had been disclosed to the British and French governments, Italy's pective enemies.

Fulfills Obligation

Notification to countries with shipping in the Mediterranean, however, was regarded by naval circles as fulfilling Italy's obligation under international regulations to publish the limits of any mine fields.

Meanwhile, from Virginia Gayda, editor of Il Giornale D'Italia, came a threat of eventual European intervention in American affairs if the United States went to the aid of beleaguered Britain and France. The Gayda editorial was under-

REYNAUD SEES SIGNS OF HOPE

"Hundreds And Hundreds Of Nazi Tanks Lost," Says Premier

PARIS, June 6.—(AP Via Radio)—France's Premier Paul Reynaud declared tonight that "hundreds and hundreds" of enemy tanks had been destroyed since the Germans launched their drive at dawn yesterday toward Paris.

In an address to his countrymen, France's one-man director of the war told them that there was now "reason for hope," and said that "the battle of June 1940 may decide the fate of the world for hundreds of years."

(Reynaud's speech was heard in the United States through NBC, which provided a translation.)

"75's" Battle Tanks

PARIS, June 6.—French "75's" and anti-tank guns caught hard-driving German tanks in a tangle on the Somme front today in a battle seven miles in depth.

Other German tanks, pushing recklessly as far as they could go, fought through the battlefield and into the open only to be cut off from their support.

(The German high command announced today its troops, on the offensive and pushing toward the heart of France, had gained ground "everywhere" in a sweep toward the southwest.)

Nests of French machine-guns and pursuit planes were reported to have held back the main German forces, preventing motorcyclists and truck-carried infantry from following in the wake of the tank spearheads.

The main German armies, striking both directly at Paris and in the west toward Rouen, still had 70 miles to go to the French capital. "Hitler weather," fine, hot, dry, held out, as it did in Poland.

The new French tactics for meeting a blitzkrieg were said to have entangled German tanks in forward zones, permitting their destruction at will.

Tanks Cut Off

Germany's mobile fortresses, pushing far ahead of the main battlefront and miles from their fueling bases, were said in military advice to have found the roads back barred by specially trained and equipped detachments which ringed them under full fire—especially from French 75's—until they were crumpled masses of iron and steel.

The "quagmire" or "quicksand" defense—some of the French called it a "flypaper" defense—called for no suicidal attempt by outposts to oppose the heavy tread of the blasting tanks but rather a yielding which permitted penetration of the defense zone and finally annihilation.

Frenchmen declared that the first results of the second day of the "battle for Paris" in which 2,000,000 men are engaged proved the efficacy of the "quagmire" defense.

Paris commentators declared that the Nazi "panzer" divisions—warriors on wheels or caterpillar treads—had suffered heavy losses.

DIES COMMITTEE VINDICATED

Totalitarian boasts that liberal governments are helpless against the "new technique" of disruption are being answered with forthright action. Great Britain and France are throwing known subversionists into jail and taking drastic measures to check those remaining at large. In the United States, where the experience of Norway, Belgium and Holland had the effect of a general alarm, similar steps are being taken. This country has no notion of remaining helpless because that's the way it's supposed to be.

It is a matter of record here that when the Dies committee tried to tell the country what is now known to be true about political termites it was battered around unmercifully by a number of spokesmen for the government. It was seeing things under the bed, saying a red hunt, undermining the Bill of Rights, taking itself too seriously etc. etc. This was a sample of the way the "new technique" worked, by taking advantage of the reluctance of its victims to believe the worst, but to continue believing in the best until the worst befell them. Like all new weapons of warfare, fortunately, the usefulness of the stunt declines rapidly when the element of surprise is gone. Fifth columnism has become a hazardous occupation in every alert country.

THE MISERABLE SONS OF MAN

Apparent renunciation by Pope Pius of his unsuccessful role as peacemaker on the eve of Italy's belated entry makes a symbolic ending for the shattered dream of international peace secured by mutual goodwill and understanding.

The Pope speaks sorrowfully in an address to cardinals of "the miserable sons of man who are divided by conflicting ideas and interests and torn by enmity, hate, rancor and vengeance. No nation is immune from the danger of some of its children being swept away by passion."

Speculation on Italy's decision has explored fully the rebuke to the Vatican implicit in a belligerence which its spokesmen could not condone. If the voice of the Pope could stay the hands of willful politicians anywhere on earth, that place should be the home of the Roman Catholic church. Italy had not been attacked; its participation in war clearly would be the result of a decision to have open recourse to bloodshed as an instrument of national policy.

The judgment of the Pope on the cynical attempt to sweep away Italy's children by propagandized passion will hit closer to home than anything a politician could say in this fateful hour of decision.

DISCOVERING SOUTH AMERICA

Discovery of South America, which must be a matter of surprise for South Americans when they read about it, goes on apace.

While businessmen and empire builders are surprised over statistics on population, space and natural resources, an editor, curious about the implications of hemispheric defense, is entitled to wonderment about South America's statistical ability to defend itself.

An expedition of discovery with The World Almanac discloses that the regular armies and trained reserves of South America total not more than 1,500,000, which is considerably less than the paper total for Roumania. This strength is divided some 20 ways, furthermore, and therefore does not represent continental defense capacity at all.

As for airplanes, No. 1 necessity in modern war, South America could put about 700 planes into the air if all its governments acted in concert. There is no naval strength worth mentioning. In short, South America's statistical ability to defend itself is nil, being on the whole a great deal less on paper than the statistical defense of the United States, which experts lately have been pointing out is next to nothing.

BAD NEWS FOR A MAN IN A HURRY

Successful withdrawal of 335,000 Allied troops from the last battle of Flanders is not, as Premier Churchill has told parliament, a victory but a "colossal military disaster."

It is a demonstration, nevertheless, of the magnitude of Adolf Hitler's task. By tremendous waste of life and equipment he has brought about a hasty victory, but the byproduct is a moral victory for the enemy.

There still are Belgian soldiers fighting with the Allies; they did not choose to obey their king's order to surrender. A sizable Polish army is fighting with the Allies; its members refused to concede defeat.

The German invaders continue to meet resistance from Norwegian troops, despite disintegration of Norwegian sovereignty. Czechs and Slovaks still are resisting German domination. The Dutch troops which survived the German invasion do not love Hitlerism any more as actuality than they did as possibility.

Everywhere that German militarism has loosed its efficient ferocity the byproduct has been a stiffening of the spirit of its victims and heightened determination to take revenge for the misery it has caused. The British and French, weakened in the field, apparently are greatly strengthened in their resolve to fight. Even German communists acknowledge the fact of stubborn Allied resistance. Reverses have fortified their will, a bad omen for an aggressor in a hurry to finish the job of conquest.

It is borrowing hope from the future to say so, but Hitler's bloody plan of building a German super-state on the ruins of the old order may have the unexpected consequence, for him, of restoring vitality and purpose to the nations he tried to destroy. Like Germany, they may turn adversity into a revived determination to overcome the things that threaten them. Certainly no one can be blind to the renewed resolution of the United States to protect its way of life from attack—a direct consequence of Hitlerism.

THE STARS SAY:

For Friday, June 7

SPLENDID opportunity for achievement and definite progress in the direction of high goals is shown by this day's stellar chart. Much should be gained by industry, shrewdness, acumen and resourcefulness, perhaps in those affairs concentrated about writings, publicity, publishing, promotion and the commercial angles of literary versatility. Seek the endorsement and preferment of those in prestige and social position, whose friendly interest should be a factor in promoting cherished aims and desires, personal as well as business.

Those whose birthday it is may be prepared for a year of definite success if they will apply themselves with intelligence, sound ambitions and aspirations. Under high stimuli are the intellectual forces and faculties as well as the social graces, where friendly interest of those in standing are instruments of expansion and fruition of a gratifying order, both business and private. It is most propitious for reaching for advanced goals in the realm of heart's desire.

A child born on this day may be richly endowed with the social, intellectual, humane and affectional traits and abilities, assuring much gratification and personal popularity as well as business standing.

The movement to divide the year into thirteen months has its points, but care should be taken not to have the additional month the kind we had during the month of May, last.

"HERITAGE OF THE DESERT"

The March Of Anaesthesia
Dr. Clendening Lauds Victory Over Pain

WE NOTICED yesterday, the four hundredth anniversary of the discovery of ether and the honor done to our pioneer American physician, Dr. Crawford W. Long, for whom a stamp is now issued, to remind us that in 1842 he first gave ether as an anesthetic for a surgical operation.

Today I would like to point out the progress that has been made by modern science in the development of anaesthesia. The word "anaesthesia" means freedom from pain, and was coined by Oliver Wendell Holmes.

For a long time, ether, chloroform and nitrous oxide (laughing gas) were the only substances commonly employed for surgical or dental anaesthesia. All of them are what are called "inhalation anaesthetics." They derive their properties from the fact that they are volatile and readily become gaseous at ordinary temperature, so the patient can inhale them into the lungs; the fine blood vessels of the lungs absorb them and they numb the higher centers of the brain.

Early Progress

The first step in advance was the discovery of local anaesthesia. In principle, this means the deadening of the small area where the surgeon intends to operate. It began in about 1882—when the great nerve specialist, Sigmund Freud, asked a young doctor, Karl Koller, to help him find out about the properties of cocaine. Dr. Koller, being a conscientious investigator, started by experimenting on himself. He swallowed some of a solution of cocaine; he was expecting general sensations, but he noticed to his surprise that it made his tongue and the inside of his mouth numb.

This interested Dr. Koller very much. He was intending to specialize on the eye, and he knew the desperate need for something that could be dropped in the eye to deaden pain after injuries and deaden sensation for local operations. He tried cocaine in the eye and found it worked.

Dr. Koller is still alive, in active practice in New York, one of the great heroes of science, little known, modest and industrious in an active eye practice.

Even more ingenious is to use spinal anaesthesia—to inject a drug right into the space around the spinal cord—and deaden the central nervous system at its source. It's quite a weird sight to see a surgical operation under these circumstances. The patient's head is alert, he can speak, hear and see, but from the neck down he is a senseless lump. "Just a disembodied head," as one surgeon said of his subject.

Another of the great advances in modern anaesthesia is the use of a combination or rather, series, of drugs. One is given by vein as a preparation and then a much smaller amount of a gaseous anaesthetic is needed.

The man who stands at the head of the surgical table today is a highly equipped and highly trained scientist. He has done much to develop modern surgery because he has given the surgeon leisure and peace of mind to carry out his most difficult manipulations.

Proclamation On Flag Week Issued By Mayor Phillips

In an appeal to the residents of Salem to show their patriotism by displaying the Stars and Stripes during national Flag Week, June 8 to 15, Mayor Norman Phillips today issued the following proclamation:

"Whereas, in these days of world-wide turmoil, with subversive forces influencing the minds of the people and destroying the ideals and institutions symbolized by our country's flag, all loyal Americans should answer this challenge by displaying and paying tribute to that flag as the emblem of our rights and liberties; and

"Whereas, with this end in view, the period June 8 to 15 has been designated as Flag week by the United States Flag association, headed by the President of the United States as honorary president general, during which time patriotic exercises and other appropriate exercises are to be held in towns and cities throughout all the land;

"Now, therefore, as Mayor of Salem, I do proclaim June 8-15 as Flag week and direct that during this period the flag of the United States be displayed on all municipal buildings and vehicles. Furthermore, I do invite the people of this city to display the Stars and Stripes at their homes, places of business and other suitable locations as well as in their cars, and to hold patriotic exercises, plan flag parades and to do other suitable things as a public expression of our love of our country, our allegiance to its glorious banner and our belief in the institutions of American democracy."

SLIM-WAISTED AFTERNOON DRESS Pattern 4467

All the charm, poise and finished beauty of womanhood is expressed by Anne Adams in Pattern 4467—a dress that will give you dreamed-of slenderness. That wide waistband, printed in front, seems to whittle down your waist-size. And the gently flared skirt has alluring front and back panels. Decorative gathers at either side of the attractive sweetheart neckline may be held by clips or by perky bows drawn through eyelets. More gathers at the short or three-quarter sleeves give a dress-up effect. A whiff of crisp ruffling at neck and sleeves looks most refreshing. Let the Sewing Instructor steer your needle course to a quick finish!

Pattern 4467 is available in women's sizes 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46 and 48. Size 36 takes 3 1/2 yards 36-inch fabric and 2 1/2 yards ruffling.

Threatens Officer, Is Killed In Turn

YOUNGSTOWN, June 6.—Edward Pedro, 21, of Struthers, was fatally shot in a gun battle with seven policemen when he was cornered in the downtown bus arcade early today.

With bullet wounds in the right arm, hip, stomach and leg, the youth died two hours later.

Patrolman Myron Burnside encountered Pedro in an alley while patrolling his beat. Pedro covered the policeman with a gun, commanding: "Stick up your hands or I'll kill you."

Instead the policeman leaped backward, around a corner, retorting: "Try it if you can."

Pedro and the policeman fired three shots each, then Burnside called for reinforcements.

Police believe the man committed several burglaries here, and Struthers police said he recently served a sentence for burglary.

Italy is paying close attention to the trend of American opinion on the European conflict.

American intervention, Gayda wrote, would be an "ostentatious, rash taking of sides in favor of a small part against a greater part of Europe."

tanks captured by the Germans at Ghent, the ministry announced.
Military circles here acknowledged that the Germans had made some progress at certain points in the Aisne-Somme battle, but added that no advances could be described as penetrations of the French defense positions.

An accident costing five lives befell the Royal Air Force when a bomber struck a balloon barrage cable on the northeast coast last night and crashed. Three civilians and two members of the Bomber's crew were killed.

On the home front, Minister of Labor Ernest Bevin announced sweeping measures for mobilization of labor to speed Britain's armaments drive. A new order, effective next Monday, bans strikes and lockouts and provides for rigid control of all war jobs to make the best use of skilled labor.

LUDWIG GIVEN LIQUOR, CHARGE

Patrolman Says Prisoner Was Given Drink At Jail In Lisbon

and a heavy cane, which also bore blood stains. Ormsby told of questioning Ludwig concerning his whereabouts the previous Saturday evening and up to the time he discovered the body. Ludwig claimed he had come home late that night when the crime is said to have been committed, and when he found the rear door locked, went to a nearby barn and slept in the hay. Ludwig told the patrolman he awakened on Sunday and went to the house, found the door still locked and after getting a drink at the well, went back to the shed and slept there until early Monday morning. When he returned to the house, he gained entrance through a coal shed window and found Drotleff's body in a second floor bedroom.

Tells About Liquor

On cross-examination, Ormsby said that he and Prosecutor Stouffer had retraced the route, in a further investigation, visiting places where Ludwig said he had been on the night of the killing, and finally going to the county jail in an effort to secure a confession from the prisoner.

The officer admitted there was liquor present at the questioning, that Prosecutor Stouffer had produced a pint of liquor and asked Ludwig if he would like to have a drink. Ludwig was said to have replied, "If you want to get me drunk, it'll take more than a pint, it'll take a gallon." Ormsby then stated, "they didn't drink more than a tea cup full from the bottle," and when questioned as to whom "they" were, replied "Stouffer and Ludwig."

Although Ludwig was questioned at length and on several other occasions, a confession never was obtained.

George Raft and Joan Bennett form the newest screen romantic team in "The House Across the Bay" which shows at the State Friday and Saturday.

The strong supporting cast includes Walter Pidgeon, Gladys George, June Knight and Peggy Shannon.

The story concerns a lucky gambler who isn't smart enough to play the game on the right side of the law and the girl cabaret singer who became his wife.

They live a luxurious, colorful life until his lawyer and an enemy gambler send him to prison on an income tax charge. While her husband is in prison the girl meets an airplane manufacturer who asks her to marry him.

Enraged because she will have nothing to do with him, the lawyer informs the imprisoned husband that she has been unfaithful. The husband breaks jail to learn that the lawyer doublecrossed him. The climax of the involved romantic situation is provided by the husband's realization of the situation.

Anne Shirley and John Garfield, with Claude Rains and Dianne Moore, are seen tonight for the last times at the State in "Saturday's Children".

Barred From WPA

The senate appropriations committee recommended senate passage of a house-approved amendment to the relief bill barring aliens, Communists and Nazi band members from WPA rolls.

The strictly military field, the army chief of staff, Gen. George C. Marshall, who has been appearing before the house military committee, recommended an increase in the regular army's manpower to 400,000.

He advanced this as a compromise for the disputed proposal to empower Mr. Roosevelt to call out the national guard in emergency. Pending legislation permits an army increase of only 50,000 men to bring its strength to 280,000.

The house appropriations committee meanwhile hurried along Mr. Roosevelt's second extraordinary request for $1,277,000,000, using only a day and a half for subcommittee hearings.

Yesterday also saw foreign affairs committees in both houses recommending a specific "keep out" re-statement of the Monroe doctrine, avowedly for Germany's benefit.

The resolution would put the United States on record as opposing the transfer of American hemisphere lands from one non-American nation to another.

SAXONS EXTEND RECREATION IN SOFTBALL GAME

Game Goes Two Extra Innings After Score Is Tied At 2-All

Given all the opposition they could handle by a spirited Salem Saxons team, the Salem Recreation's imposing array of softball stars went two extra innings before squeezing out a 4 to 2 victory in the feature attraction of Wednesday evening's Class A league program.

With both teams fighting to keep their record clean, the game produced some of the best action seen in the Class A league this season.

Tied For Lead
The victory was the Recreation stars second of the season, moving them up even with the National Sanitary and the Carroll Club in first place in the Class A race. It was the Saxons' first set-back of the year.

The game was extended into extra innings after the score was tied at 2-all at the end of the regulation seven frames. Both teams scored early, the Recreation counting one run in the first inning and one in the second while the Saxons tallied once in the second frame and once in the third.

Brilliant fielding checked scoring from the fourth inning until the ninth when the Recreation pushed two runs across the plate to gain the lead. The Recreation's first run in the ninth was unearned, Ted Scott scoring on an overthrow at third after drawing a walk to get on base. The second run, however, came in on a base knock.

Herb Brown went the full distance on the mound for the Recreation, giving up six hits. Pitcher Al Linder, making his second start in the Class A league for the Saxons, allowed seven safe blows.

Trades Class Wins
Scoring freely on a 14-hit attack, the Trades Class trounced the Washington Merchants, 13 to 3, in the other Class A game. It was the Trades' first win in two games and Washington's second defeat in as many starts.

Carroll Beck hammered out four hits in as many trips to the plate to lead the slugging as the Trades tallied three runs in the first inning, six in the second, one in the fourth and three in the sixth. Washington bunched its three runs in the seventh frame.

Ralph Guldahl Picks Sammy Snead To Win National Open Tournament With 288 Mark

By SANFORD MARKEY

CLEVELAND, June 6.—From the long list of outstanding golfers entered in the 44th National Open championship at Cleveland's difficult Canterbury Club this week, picking a likely winner is like forecasting next week's weather.

From the state of Texas alone are five aces capable of giving any field a run for its money. Byron Nelson, the defending champion, is a native of Fort Worth; Ralph Guldahl, the champion in 1937 and 1938 was born in Dallas; Jimmy Demaret, leading money winner of the winter season, is from Houston. These three were among the 30 low scorers in last year's open and automatically qualify for this year's show.

Add to them Ben Hogan from Dublin, Texas, and the 25-year-old sensation from Dallas, J. Lloyd Mangrum, and you have five of the hottest shots to grace any prospective championship list.

Hogan, 138 pounds of dynamite, is nevertheless, the favorite. Winner of this year's Goodall Invitational, he leads all professionals for 1940 season with an average of 70.80 strokes for 56 tournament rounds and is 13 under par for 1008 holes.

A consistent player, he is one of the best hitters in the game and attributes his fine shooting to perfect timing.

Picked by Marvin Ward, national amateur champion to take the Open, Demaret has already won more than $10,000 in Winter tournaments.

One of the most popular players on the links, Demaret has an average of 71.06 strokes for 49 tournament rounds. For color alone, Demaret cannot be beaten. He wears jerseys or blazers with big blazers with big horizontal stripes—which make him look like a fugitive from a chain-gang—walks on high Texas-heeled cowboy boots and wears a green hat that defies age.

Nelson, defending champion, has an average of 71.06 strokes for 37 rounds. Cool when the going gets the toughest, Nelson recently won the 1940 Ohio Open at the Sylva Country Club, Toledo. He is both an excellent putter and a distance hitter.

Two-time winner, Guldahl believes that in view of the tricky winds of the Canterbury course anybody scoring 288, or even par, will take the crowd. Not a graceful golfer, compared with Ed Dudley or MacDonald Smith, Guldahl's powers of concentration are tremendous and he will gamble on shots as will no other golfer except Walter Hagen.

Although not counting himself out, Guldahl believes that Sam Snead, with whom he has just finished a long tour, has the best chance to win at Canterbury. Snead's powerful drives give him an advantage on the long fairways and roughs. Snead has an average of 71.53 strokes in 32 rounds of winter golf.

Craig Wood has never won a ma-

Young Walt Masterson
Bolsters Senators'
Pitching Staff

BY JUDSON BAILEY
The Washington Senators, who have had little enough to cheer about this spring, are rightfully cheerful over the suddenly sensational pitching of young Walter Masterson.

This little right-hander, who won't be 20 years old until June 22, set the Cleveland Indians on their ears 6-1 yesterday with a four-hit pitching performance that was the day's brightest achievement in the major leagues.

What made the effort more exciting for the Senators, however, was the fact that it came upon the heels of a three-hitter Masterson hurled May 30 in a seven-inning game against the Philadelphia Athletics.

Need Good Pitching
Plagued by injuries, Washington hardly has been able to hold its lead in the American league skimming this season, but good pitching should solve most of the club's troubles. The Nats haven't garnered less than ten hits in any of their last eight games.

They got ten yesterday, and masterful pitching by Masterson. He shut out the Tribe for eight innings before letting a run trickle across in the ninth. The verdict had been sealed in his favor by a five-run flurry in the fourth when Jim Bloodworth homered with the bases loaded.

The peppy St. Louis Browns nudged the Boston Red Sox into their third straight defeat, 4-3 in 14 innings, to preserve the one-half game margin between the Sox and Indians at the top of the standings.

Schoolboy Rowe pitched and batted the Detroit Tigers to a 9-1 triumph over the Philadelphia Athletics in a night game. He scattered seven hits and batted in three of Detroit's runs.

Yanks Win Again
The New York Yankees jumped on Lefty Thornton Lee for 12 hits and topped the Chicago White Sox 7-5. Monte Pearson weakened in the ninth and gave up three runs.

The Cincinnati Reds improved their station in the National league with a 7-2 conquest of the New York Giants in another night contest. Gene Thompson allowed ten hits and knocked in three runs to make sure of his seventh victory.

In the only other game in the senior circuit the Chicago Cubs edged out the Phillies 3-2 with Dom Dallessandro accounting for all Chicago's runs on a double with the bases loaded.

CONN DECISIONS GUS LESNEVICH

Pittsburgh Champion Defends Light Heavyweight Crown

DETROIT, June 6.—Gus Lesnevich, a plodding pugilist from Cliffside Park, N. J., lost his chance to win the light-heavyweight boxing championship of the world last night but he woke up today with the knowledge that the title probably would be his within a few days.

Billy Conn, the champion, rebuilt the blasted hopes of Lesnevich a few minutes after receiving the decision in a 15-round defense of his crown.

Lesnevich was in a shower cooling his tired body when Conn walked in.

"It was a nice fight, Billy," said Gus. "I have no alibi."

"Don't feel bad," answered Conn, "because the championship will be yours in a few days. This fight convinced me I can't take off weight any more and from now on I'm a heavyweight. You can beat the other light-heavyweights."

"But I don't want the title that way," remonstrated Lesnevich. "I want to win in the ring."

"If you want to fight me again become a heavyweight," said Conn.

GOLFING'S BEST TEE OFF TODAY IN OPEN EVENT

Snead, Hogan Favorites
In Tournament At Cleveland

CLEVELAND, June 6.—Golf's greatest show—the National Open championship—sent an all-star cast of star smashers into battle against wind and distance at Canterbury Golf club today.

The defending champion in this 44th edition of the game's "world series" is slender Byron Nelson of Toledo. Lined up against him are some 160 other top flight professionals and amateurs. And up against all of them are the 6,921 yards of Canterbury's tricky terrain and the nerve-cracking steady Lake Erie breezes which carry the prospect of producing one of the most spectacular, free-for-all fights in open history.

The players known to be consistently long and straight are given the best chance of licking the winds and Canterbury's par of 35-36-72 over the three-day, 72-hole grind.

Co-Favorites
"Slamming Sam" Snead and little Ben Hogan, therefore, are rated the co-favorites at 6-1 to take the crown which Nelson won after last year's double playoff at Philadelphia. Snead has been exceptionally long and straight off the tee, while "Battering Ben," leading money winner of the winter, was hot enough to produce three sub-par practice rounds.

But there are a dozen or more others rated excellent chances of coming home in front. Ralph Guldahl, holder of the open title in 1937 and 1938, made no secret of the confidence he has in himself to become a three-time winner. He and Nelson are bracketed in the second choice wagering with Jimmy Demaret, Craig Wood and Lawson Little, twice winner of the British and United States amateur titles and low qualifier for the nation in the sectional tests.

Rounds of 18 holes today and tomorrow will send the 60 low scorers and ties into Saturday's 36-hole final of a tournament which finds these former champions in the field: Guldahl, Johnny Farrell, Gene Sarazen, Tommy Armour, Walter Hagen, Sam Parks, Jr., Tony Manero, Olin Dutra and Johnny Goodman, the amateur who won the title in 1933.

thereby signaling his vacating of the title. He says he hopes to get a shot at Heavyweight Champion Joe Louis.

Except in the early part of the fight when Lesnevich landed a number of stabs to the body, Conn boxed superbly.

Breezy Briefs Of Sport From Brietz To You

BY EDDIE BRIETZ

NEW YORK, June 6.—Taisto Maki is working his way back to Finland as a deck hand on a freighter. . . . Who'll win the open? The guy with the hottest putter. Personally, it wouldn't surprise us to see Lord Byron Nelson repeat. Many ringsters at Cleveland are passing up red hot favorites to string along with Craig Wood. . . . Babe Ruth, who is professing in Ray Doan's baseball academy, will drag down $2,250 for a ten-day appearance in Chicago. . . . May sound strange, but the Yanks are in a better position right now than they were two years ago at this stage of the race.

Yip, Yip
The Tucson Cowboys in the Arizona-Texas league rolled up 61 runs to win three games—17-6, 19-7 and 25-6. . . . Then just to show they're different, they went out and dropped one, 13-1.

They're saying now that those sophomores out at Wisconsin may save the day for Harry Strudikreher, after all.

Today's Guest Star
Howard Roberts, Chicago Daily News: "A press box wag has labeled the Dodgers the Brooklyn Post, American League, G. A. R. . . . Former A. L. players on the club are Manager Durocher, Dixie Walker, Joe Vosmik, Jim Wascell, Luke Hamlin, Vito Tamulis, Whitlow Wyatt, Ernie Koy and Joe Gallagher. . . . Not a bad nine. . . . And hardly nine old men."

The Brooklyn Eagles have withdrawn from the American football association and will serve as a nucleus for a new pro loop to be formed in the east. . . . Terry has the Giants breezing along and around here they're regarded a red hot pennant threat.

for title in golf, but he is one of the most successful professionals in the game. Thirty-eight years old, Wood's age is beyond the accepted tournament peak, but he uses his experience and accuracy to offset driving distance. Today, he plays percentages and places his drives so that he has the simplest possible approach to the green. He is fourth in the winter earnings and averaged 72.25 strokes in 43 rounds.

Handsome Tony Manero, the 1936 Open champ, has plenty of confidence and has been more successful on northern courses than on the winter circuits. Handicapped by illness and misfortune, Tony has proven himself a good tournament player and is expected to be among the contenders this year.

If Ky Laffoon gets hot, he will show the galleries an example, of blitzkrieg golf. He won the Park Hill Open in Denver by shooting 67-63-69-67—260! He also won the biggest tournament ever held in Cleveland, the $10,000 Open at Oakwood in 1938 by nosing out Snead and Billy Burke. Even though he has not won a major tournament recently, Laffoon's winter average of 73.09 strokes for 31 rounds stamps him as a definite challenger.

Anyone who has won two U. S. Opens, four British Opens, four P. G. A. match play championships, five Western Opens, the Canadian, French and German Opens can not be overlooked—especially if he is Walter Hagen.

The Hag's advanced years are his greatest handicap, but he is still feared and greatly respected by other competitors. He has not competed in the Open championship since 1935, when he came close to winning at Oakmont.

Among the other notables expected to tee off are former Open champions Sam Parks, Jr. in 1935; Gene Sarazen in 1922 and 1932; Johnny Farrell in 1928, and Johnny Goodman in 1933.

Paycheck, Kayoed by Young Fighter, Hangs Up Gloves

CHICAGO, June 6.—Johnny Paycheck is through with the ring.

He decided to hang up his boxing gloves following his tenth round knockout in the Coliseum last night at the hands of Altus Allen, a 19-year-old Chicago Negro heavyweight, just a year out of Golden Gloves amateur competition.

Paycheck, a native Chicagoan transplanted to Des Moines, Ia., said he has lost all desire for boxing; that since Joe Louis knocked him out in four punches nine weeks ago his co-ordination had been impaired. Paycheck, baldish at 25, had hoped to prove to the hometown folks last night that he had been overmatched in fighting the heavyweight champion, and that fight did not lick him.

From the first punch, when Allen's right cut Paycheck's left eye, the crowd of 4,000 saw a savage fight seldom equaled in the history of boxing. There was no question of Allen's superiority. Allen, 179½ was outweighed 9½ pounds.

Paycheck, a Golden Gloves international heavyweight champion, had 52 fights as a professional, winning 30 by knockouts. Allen had won nine of 13 pro bouts by kayo.

"Spoiled Girl" by LUCILLE MARSH JOHNSON

SYNOPSIS

Gabrielle Snow, lovely 18-year-old daughter of wealthy Samuel Snow, an old magnate, falls in love with Peter Parsons, a handsome young soda clerk. Peter, however, is a talented pianist, a promising vocalist, and aspires to become a composer. Gabrielle's parents object to the match because Peter has no social background. So one night, while out riding with Gabrielle's friend, Dorothy Mackey, and the latter's fiancé, Tony, Gaby and Peter decide to get married immediately. It is 3 a. m., and they have to wait until the license bureau opens. Tony prevails upon Dot to make it a double wedding. After the ceremony, Gabrielle recalls that her uncle's will stipulated that if she married before she was 21, she would not get her inheritance until she became 35. "I'm glad of it," Peter announces. "I'd never have married you if I'd known you would have so much money. Now you'll have to be dependent on me!" They return home to face the music. When Gabrielle introduces Peter as her husband her mother nods coolly, then excuses herself and goes upstairs. Mr. Snow threatens to have the marriage annulled.

CHAPTER EIGHT

"I'll stick with him anyway!" stormed Gabrielle, stamping her feet and glaring at her father. "You'll do nothing of the kind," he said harshly, "but there was a slight indecision in his tone. "I will!" cried Gabrielle, almost hysterically. "I'll have a baby—that's what I'll do!"

All at once Sam smiled at her, tenderly, whimsically. "All right, Gaby," he murmured. "I believe you, dear."

"Peter," he said, and turned steadily to the boy, take her, and may God bless you!"

Peter took an involuntary step forward saying: "You don't mind after all sir? You don't hate me then?"

"I certainly don't hate you, Peter," said Gabrielle's father. "I do pity you though, with this heathen child of mine. We've spoiled her until I'm afraid she's past redemption. Peter, but—you asked for it, so here she is."

"Thank you, sir."

"I hope you'll both be very happy, and I'm sure you will be part of the time," he ended enigmatically.

He held out his hand to the younger man. Peter took it quickly. With a deep understanding they gazed into each other's eyes, until Gabrielle broke in with:

"Now if Mother would only be sensible."

"Your mother is mighty hurt over your utter disregard for her wishes, Gaby. Also about the inheritance from your Uncle Gabe. Has she told you about that, Peter?"

His blue eyes shined with merriment. Peter replied with amusement. "Not until after I'd married her, sir. I'm glad she won't have it. I want her dependent on me!"

"That's highly commendable of you, Peter," said Sam Snow, a warm smile lighting up his countenance.

"Gaby, you'd better run up and see your mother," he continued seriously.

ously. "Helen will probably be sick over this."

A look of contrition came over Gabrielle's face, and she turned to go. She smiled at Peter, came back, kissed him lightly on the mouth. Then, seeing her father's expression, she kissed him, too.

But Helen didn't become ill over Gabrielle's sudden marriage, nor did she remain unfriendly toward Peter. Instead, she remembered her own romance with Gabrielle's father, and entered into the business of finding a suitable apartment for them with much enthusiasm.

By four o'clock that afternoon she and Gabrielle had found several which seemed all right as to price, neighborhood and furnishings. Gabrielle had promised Peter she'd not rent one until he had seen it too.

She and her mother came back to the Snow residence shortly after the last available apartment had been seen, and found Peter and Sam smoking on the front veranda with all the seeming enjoyment of old friends.

Helen called to Violet to bring iced drinks to the veranda, then settled herself in the glider, sighing as she did so.

"It's some job, choosing an apartment," she said quietly. "I think you'd better take the last one, Gabrielle, the one with the bedroom and the outside kitchenette."

"It was the nicest," agreed Gabrielle, her eyes shining. "It had a bedroom, large living room, kitchenette, bath and two large closets, Peter."

Peter smiled adoringly at her. "How much, Gaby?"

"That's it," said Gabrielle, grinning. "It was $65, but the utilities were paid, and the location is lovely."

"Where? That's out," said Peter, grinning.

"The others were almost as bad—any of them you'd have," contributed Helen matter-of-factly. "Only one at $25, bills paid by the renter and it was awful!"

Peter looked seriously at Gabrielle. "But that's all we can possibly pay, Gaby. You know that!"

"I'll tell you," intervened Helen brightly. "Sam and I will pay your first year's rent and then you can afford to take the nicer apartment. Won't we, Sam?"

Pulling gently on his pipe, Sam regarded Peter quizzically.

"I'm sorry," began Peter determinedly, "but I'd prefer to pay my own bills if you don't mind. It's awfully nice of you, but he hastened to add, seeing the astounded expression on Mrs. Snow's face.

He turned to Gabrielle and found her looking at him in amusement. "You'd rather we got along on what I make, wouldn't you, Gaby?" he asked, his blue eyes pleading for her approval.

"If you'd only go look at them, Peter—" began Gabrielle.

"All right, I will!" announced Peter, getting up. "Let's go!"

A doubtful expression on Gabrielle's face changed into one of acquiescence at his urgent look. Turning to her parents, she asked: "May we take the car?"

"Help yourselves," said her father quietly.

"I don't know where to take you bed shortly before 10 o'clock that night. They laughed over a pale blue patch, obviously from someone's shirt, near the bottom of the sheet.

One of their windows faced the south and the soft June breeze blew the narrow scrim curtain gently, in and out. A boudoir lamp, which Gabrielle had brought from her daffodil yellow room, gave forth a soft golden gleam, ameliorating the contours and fadedness of the angular old furnishings.

Later, when their slim young bodies were stretched out on the bed, a timid new moon peeked in under the shade, and Gabrielle sighed ecstatically as Peter encircled her with his arms.

A shrill ring brought Gabrielle to an upright position promptly at five o'clock. The offending disturbance proved to be the bright green alarm clock which Peter had placed on a stand near the bed. Reaching out, she shut it off, glaring at it angrily. It was the first time in her life she had been rudely awakened.

Yawning prodigiously, she turned sleepily back to the bed. Her eyes

He had stirred slightly when the alarm went off, but that was all. He had told her the night before that he always left the alarm on repeat, because that was the only way he'd ever notice it. She leaned over and kissed the relaxed mouth tenderly.

Dream laden eyes opened and regarded her blue.

"Good morning, dear husband," she said, liking the sound of the words on her lips.

"Then it wasn't a dream!" he murmured, drawing her to him.

Peter sounded as supremely happy as she felt.
